

$30,000 new season mango delivery to children's hospital

Wednesday 8 September 2010: The first tray of new season mangoes was snapped up by Woolies for $30,000 this morning at the annual Sydney Markets mango charity auction. All proceeds will be donated to the Children's Hospital Institute of Sport and the Prostate Foundation.

This afternoon, young patients from the Children's Hospital at Westmead will be the first consumers to enjoy the first taste of summer sunshine when Woolworths staff deliver the tray.

Head of Produce Paul Harker said "The charity auction is a great initiative and we're delighted that both the money and the mangoes will go to such a worthy cause. Woolies is a major supporter of the Children's Hospital at Westmead and we're only too pleased to give the kids the first taste of Australia's favourite fruit."

Media call

What: Delivery of first tray of mangoes to patients at the Children's Hospital at Westmead
Who: Winning bidder Paul Harker, Head of Produce, Woolworths Supermarkets
When: 2.30pm Wednesday 8 September
Where: Arrive front desk, Children's Hospital at Westmead and request Nikkie Beltaran to obtain escort to the ward

For further information please contact the Woolworths Press Office on (02) 8885 1033 or 0404 829033.

Ends