

Masters commences recruitment for 100 new jobs in Adelaide

Wednesday, 24 September 2014: Masters, Australia's fastest growing hardware store, has commenced recruiting for 100 new jobs for its Adelaide Airport store.

The new Masters store at Adelaide Airport is due to open at the end of this year.

Adelaide Airport Store Manager, Brad Gibson, said he is excited to be commencing recruitment for the store and is looking forward to welcoming more than 100 new Masters team members.

"We are currently recruiting for positions across the store. There a number of manager and specialist roles as well as customer service positions.

"We are particularly keen to recruit trades people, retailers and people who are looking for a new challenge or fresh start with a great team.

"Masters associates are customer-focused, determined and innovative. Anyone who has these qualities and is passionate about hardware, home improvement and retail should apply," he said.

Those wanting to apply for a role at Masters Adelaide Airport should visit wowcareers.com.au.

Masters new Parafield Airport store in north Adelaide is scheduled to open in 2015 and will create a further 100 jobs.

Across Australia, Masters has opened 49 stores in just three years and created more than 29,000 direct and indirect jobs nationally.

Masters Home Improvement is a joint venture between Woolworths Limited and US Home Improvement retailer Lowe's. We offer customers the experience of an Australian retailer with the knowledge of one of the biggest names in home improvement.

ENDS

For further information please contact the Woolworths Limited Press Office on 02 8885 1033.